

KEEPITUP · SEED ROUND

Meet through movement.

A calmer way for adults to meet — for dating, friendship, or community — built around a real local game instead of another profile.

Open worldwide. Founder-led. Product already live.

IN PLAIN WORDS

A free app: find a real local game, ask to join, show up.

1

Find a game near you

A run, a rally, a climb — sport, time, area, level and everyone's intention visible before you ask.

2

Ask to join

One tap. The host decides who comes. There's no grid of people to browse or swipe.

3

Host says yes

Only then you get the exact spot and the group chat with everyone playing.

4

Show up and play

The game carries the first encounter. Connection is the by-product.

One app, three reasons to show up: dating, friendship, or a regular crew — you set your intention on your profile. Sport is the heart of it, but any small activity counts, 2 to 20 people.

We have never been more connected, and never more alone.

A billion people carry a dating app and still can't find someone to run with on Saturday. Loneliness is now a measured public-health problem — and the tools built to fix it quietly make it worse.

WHY THE TOOLS FAIL

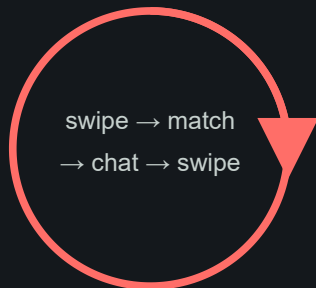

Connection needs a reason to be in the same place.

Profiles deleted the reason. They turned meeting people into a performance you audition for, and then charged you to keep auditioning. The problem was never a shortage of matches. It's the absence of a moment.

THE BUG, SOLD AS A FEATURE

Every swipe app profits when you stay. We profit when you leave.

ATTENTION ECONOMY

you stay · they win

OUTCOME ECONOMY

you leave · everyone wins

Our incentives point the same way our members do. That alignment is the whole company.

THE SOLUTION

Put a real activity first. Let the game carry the encounter.

You join a small local event — a run, a rally, a climb — with the level, time, area and everyone's intention clear before you request a place. You show up and do something you already enjoy. Connection is a by-product, not a performance.

A good evening remains a good evening, even when romance isn't the outcome.

THE OUTCOME WE SELL

Two people who'd never have swiped right, now training partners.

We don't measure success in screen time or matches. We measure it in real, completed meetings — and in whether people come back and bring a friend. That's the number that actually compounds.

North-star: safe, completed encounters per week per neighbourhood — not downloads.

TIMING

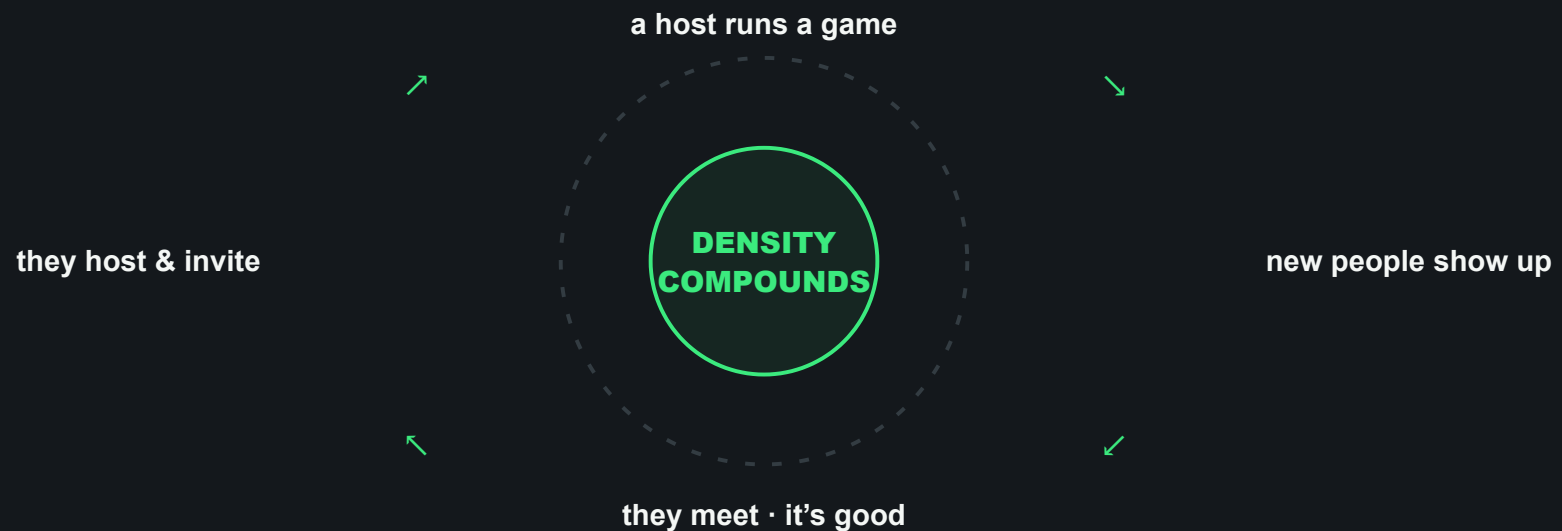

Two curves are crossing.

Swipe-app trust is falling as run clubs, padel and social-sport communities surge worldwide.

WHY IT COMPOUNDS

Local density is the moat.

Every good meeting seeds the next. Liquidity accrues by neighbourhood — expensive to copy, easy to defend.

DEFENSIBILITY

Aligned incentives

We win when members actually meet — the trust incumbents burned is ours to earn.

Multi-intent

Dating, friendship and community in one place — a larger, more durable audience than dating alone.

Trust by design

Privacy-first, anti-dark-pattern, safety never paywalled. Product behaviour, not badges.

Density moat

Win one neighbourhood's liquidity and it compounds — then the playbook repeats.

OPPORTUNITY

Large — and we win it one city at a time.

100M+ adults, lonely & swiping

Those who'd meet through sport

One dense city — the beachhead prove it here, then repeat the playbook

△ Market sizing illustrative — founder to validate with sourced data before investor use.

people actually meet.

The expensive risk — a trustworthy, working, safe product — is retired. The round buys distribution and density, not R&D.

THE ROUND

Raising to turn a built product into a proven city.

What the capital produces

Real, repeat meetings in one launch city — hosts, retention, and Plus conversion — not just installs.

18-month outcome

A repeatable local-density playbook, proven once, ready to run in 3–5 cities.

Use of funds

City launch · growth engine · trust & safety · two key hires (city launcher, part-time safety).

⚠ Raise amount, valuation and terms are founder decisions — intentionally left open.

THE IMPACT

Measured in coffees, not screen time.

If we do this right, a generation meets differently — outdoors, in motion, on their own terms. Small, safe, repeated, until it feels normal.
